The IJHSDR published twice a year, in April and October. The main objective of IJHSDR is to provide an intellectual platform for the international scholars. IJHSDR aims to promote interdisciplinary studies in humanities and social development for becoming the leading journal in the world. Our mission is to encourage researchers to publish their innovative ideas and results in as much detail as possible; therefore, there is no restriction on the length of the papers.

The journal is published in English. To be published in the International Journal of Humanities and Social Development Research a paper must be substantial and original. The Editorial Board does not accept articles published or submitted for publication elsewhere. The journal is published in both print and online version.

Informational material, such as notifications about conferences, books, jubilees, etc. may also be published under the Information heading. Articles and other material published in the IJHSDR represent the opinions of the author(s) and should not be considered to reflect the opinions of the Editorial Board.

Plagiarism Policy

The editorial board is very strict regarding plagiarism. The journal believes that taking the ideas and work of the others without giving them credit is unfair and dishonest. Copying even one sentence from someone else's manuscript, or even one of your own that has previously been published, without proper citation is considered plagiarism - use your own words instead. The editorial board retains the absolute authority to reject the review process of a submitted manuscript if it is subject to minor or major plagiarism and even may cancel the publication upon the complaint of victim(s) of plagiarism.

There are no publication fees for any author.

Archiving

All back articles are made available as full text on the journal website. In the event that the IJHSDR discontinues its publication, its archive of published articles will still remain available on the journal website, to be maintained as an archive website by IJHSDR Press pre-conference promotional materials (including emails/invitations).

Copyright

Copyrights to articles are held by IJHSDR Press upon acceptance of the articles for publication. However, users are allowed to read, download, copy, distribute, print, search, or link to the full texts of the articles in this journal without asking prior permission from the publisher or the author as long as they properly cite the biographical information of the articles.

Submission

Thank you for your interest in submitting your work to the International Journal of Humanities and Social Development Research. All manuscripts must be submitted electronically through the e-mail to the editor at ijhsdr@gmail.com. The author(s) must follow the Instructions for Authors in preparing the manuscript before submission.

Articles and other material published in the International Journal of Humanities and Social Development Research represent the opinions of the author(s) and should not be considered to reflect the opinions of the Editorial Board.

All published research articles in this journal have undergone rigorous peer review, based on initial editor screening, anonymous refereeing by independent expert referees, and consequent revision by article authors when required.

IJHSDR accepts the following article types: Articles; Book Reviews; Critical Notices. International Journal of Humanities and Social Development Research considers all manuscripts on the strict condition that;

- the manuscript is your own original work, and does not duplicate any other previously published work, including your own previously published work.

- the manuscript has been submitted only to International Journal of Humanities and Social Development Research; it is not under consideration or peer review or accepted for publication or in press or published elsewhere.
